

WHAT'S GREAT IN CHIROPRACTIC

Dean DePice, DC

August 20, 2017

Dr. DePice will provide a critical review of old and new research supporting chiropractic benefits along with research validating chiropractic from non-chiropractic origin. He will also discuss positioning chiropractic and the challenges inherent to proposing and executing valid, useful research in the efficacy of the care.

Referencing research from the early 20th century to present, covering current healthcare utilization and from services provided by a wide spectrum of healthcare providers, he will address how to apply research in practice to build greater patient engagement and outcomes.
