

RICHARD COLE, DC, DACNB, DIAPM, FICCN, FICC(H)

A national leader in chiropractic healthcare, Dr. Richard Cole has helped advance the practice of chiropractic with his standard-setting work in pain management and chiropractic neurology, as well as his efforts to encourage overall quality healthcare. He has been in full-time practice since 1978 when he graduated from Palmer College of Chiropractic. Dr. Cole was board certified by both the American Academy of Pain Management and the American Chiropractic Neurology Board. He is a Fellow of the International College of Chiropractors, current president and Fellow of the International College of Chiropractic Neurology, TCA District Director and a past member of the Board of Chiropractic Examiners. Dr. Cole holds active memberships in nearly a dozen professional and clinical organizations, and is a published author and accomplished lecturer. Committed to the development of the profession in Tennessee, he has served as lead instructor for the Chiropractic X-Ray Technologist 48 Hour Course since 2006.