

PRACTICE APPLICATIONS & CONCEPTS FOR LOW-LEVEL HORMESIS & NUTRITIONAL CONCEPTS ON PROLONGING THE HEALTH SPAN

Dan Murphy, DC

August 18, 2017

This course will examine various nutritional theories such as the Paleolithic diet and the Theory of Everything and their relationships to: inflammation, insulin resistance, healthy eating, and required supplements. Dr. Murphy will also review the concept of biological hormesis, showing how various studies support the concept and the clinical applications of how it applies in the clinical setting to low-level laser therapy.
